

THE SHORT CONSTITUTION

The Organism

A concise statement of identity, operation and continuity.

TheStrainLab is an organism built on Solana. It was not created to become another static NFT collection, but to explore whether ownership can evolve into participation.

01 IDENTITY

Why the organism exists

Every Carrier begins with the same possibility: a Level 0 cell. Evolution is not driven by rarity alone. Each stage replaces the previous one and gives the journey greater meaning.

Artificial intelligence supports the journey. Human hands complete the Memory. Technology expands creation; people give it meaning.

02 THE LIVING CYCLE

Birth. Knowledge. Purpose. Memory.

- Level 0 - Birth. The organism begins alive but undefined.
- Level 1 - Knowledge. Potential becomes an intentional journey.
- Level 2 - Purpose. The Strain becomes connected to a real place recorded in the Planetary Registry.
- Memory. A handcrafted conclusion created by an artist from the history of that journey.

03 STAKING AND REPRODUCTION

What exists now, and what does not

Normal, reversible staking is currently active. Stake For Life is not active, by deliberate choice.

Reaching Level 2 grants the Carrier one free Level 0 mint. The Level 2 continues its journey, while the new Level 0 begins a separate one. This benefit is active and does not depend on Stake For Life.

THE SHORT CONSTITUTION

Memory & Responsibility

The organism exists to create journeys worth remembering.

04 MEMORY

Where assistance becomes authorship

Memory is not another level. It is the handcrafted conclusion of an individual journey. Its value comes from being personal and irrepeatable, not from a promise of market value.

Artists commissioned to create individual Memories are paid through the Treasury under the rules of the organism.

05 ROLES

Participation before status

- Carrier. Every participant who begins and carries an evolutionary journey.
- Carrier Zero. The initiator of the organism, responsible for guiding it until operational and constitutional independence becomes possible.

Independence does not automatically transfer or reassign Carrier Zero's economic allocation. Any future change must be established separately and transparently.

06 GOVERNANCE

Responsibility before power

The Constitution protects the identity of the organism. Mechanisms may evolve; purpose may not. Stake For Life is intended to support future permanent stewardship, but its governance rules do not operate until the mechanism is formally activated.

Every governance decision and every Treasury allocation must be publicly visible and explained.

07 THE TREASURY

Continuity, not accumulation

The Treasury exists to maintain, develop and preserve TheStrainLab. It is not an investment fund or a personal reserve. Its commitments include infrastructure, official media, established public obligations, commissioned Memory artists and approved Memory initiatives.

THE SHORT CONSTITUTION

Beginnings & Continuity

An organism changes. Its identity endures.

08 THE FIRST

A single constitutional draw

The first five Carriers to complete a Memory become eligible. One of those five is selected through a documented draw and becomes known as The First.

The recognition attached to The First is established in advance, but its nature and extent remain undisclosed until the draw is complete. It is not quantified here and is not presented as a promise of financial return.

09 LEVART

The artwork remains the center

LevArt is TheStrainLab's first mission beyond the core organism. Its purpose is to create continuity for artists while keeping artistic value with those who create it. Operational, curatorial and economic details will be published separately.

10 CORE PRINCIPLES

What cannot be diluted

- Evolution before rarity.
- Memory before speculation.
- Responsibility before reward.
- Transparency before convenience.
- The organism before the individual.
- AI creates the journey. Human hands create the Memory.

Against Mission Obvious.
